Danilo Moccia: Composer/Arranger

The name SLIDESTREAM is a combination of two words: the trombone SLIDE and MAINSTREAM Jazz which clearly describes the style of music played by the band.

Three instruments of the same timber would usually imply some sort of competition bravura amongst the players, instead the music is very well arranged in a Big Band style which allows solo space for everyone.

SLIDESTREAM'S repertory includes noted Jazz Standards as well as Moccia's compositions.
